Autumn makes me wishful for the heat to dissipate, for the crisping of the air and the turning colors of the leaves.

It is that coming time to ruminate on life, to turn inward to the dark places of the heart; to take stock of all that is done and yet to do; to measure all our successes and too many failings. These thoughts will occupy the coming, not so fallow time of winter and beyond. Spring will come fast enough with its new crop of hope and courage to meet the dawning day. With these thoughts, until that day, I am content to surrender to its call.

—Rev. Paul D. Daniel, Minister

From Adrienne Rich:

My heart is moved by all that I cannot save:
So much has been destroyed
I have to cast my lot with those who, age after age, perversely, with an extraordinary power,
reconstitute the world.

From Albert Camus:

On certain mornings as we turn a corner,
an exquisite dew falls on our heart and then vanishes.
but the freshness lingers, and this, always,
is what the heart needs.
The earth must have risen
in just such a light
The morning the world was born.

Autumn in the Garden by Henry Van Dyke

When the frosty kiss of Autumn in the dark
Makes its mark
On the flowers, and the misty morning grieves
Over fallen leaves;
Then my olden garden, where the golden soil
Through the toil
Of a hundred years is mellow, rich, and deep,
Whispers in its sleep.
'Mid the crumpled beds of marigold and phlox,
Where the box
Borders with its glossy green the ancient walks,
There's a voice that talks
Of the human hopes that bloomed and withered here
Year by year,—
Dreams of joy, that brightened all the labouring hours.
Fading as the flowers.
Yet the whispered story does not deepen grief;
But relief
For the loneliness of sorrow seems to flow
From the Long-Ago,
When I think of other lives that learned, like mine,
To resign,
And remember that the sadness of the fall
Comes alike to all.
What regrets, what longings for the lost were theirs!
And what prayers
For the silent strength that nerves us to endure
Things we cannot cure!
Pacing up and down the garden where they paced,
I have traced
All their well-worn paths of patience, till I find Comfort in my mind.
Thank you to all who participated in the recent UUMAN Connections survey. The committee and program chairs of our church have received the names of members who have graciously expressed either a willingness to serve or an interest in future service in the ministries of UUMAN. We are a congregation of caring and generous people who are willing to share their time and effort for a church we all love.

Please take photos of members doing the work of UUMAN and either give them to me or place them on the Connections bulletin board in the Fellowship Hall. They will serve as a thank you to the volunteers and an inspiration for others to join your effort.

Flash Ads are requests for volunteers to help with either short term jobs or ongoing jobs that involve minimal time.

Once again the Flash Ad requests since the last newsletter have been filled. A standing ovation for these willing volunteers:

Adriaan van der Beek agreed to fill a request from Toniann to prepare lunch for the Coming of Age Retreat on September 28.

Steve Allerton is the newest member of the Sunday morning Brew Crew. He will rotate with the current members to make our Sunday morning coffee time possible. Rosie Popp needs more people to join these fun people. If you can help, please contact me at lletheridge1@gmail.com or Rosie at dr_rosie@att.net

Please send me a request for a specific need of your group. I will send out a UUMAN announcement and will put it in the newsletter.

Heartfelt thanks — Linda Etheridge

GAY PRIDE PARADE

NEEDED: Volunteers for the Gay Pride Parade on October 12 and 13. On Saturday people are needed to staff the UUMAN booth and work the bucket brigade. On Sunday you are also needed to walk in the parade. Come and be a part of this event!

Contact Gary Uitvlugt for more information and to sign up at garyuatl@aol.com or call 678-751-8877.

October Toothbrush Campaign

In October, the Social Justice Committee will be coordinating a toothbrush drive, suggested by Maeve H., for North Fulton Community Charities (NFCC) emergency dental fund.

Our goal is to collect at least 300 toothbrushes, create dental kits that provide information regarding where people can receive reduced price dental care, and present them to North Fulton Community Charities at the end of October. Congregants are encouraged to bring toothbrushes, floss, and travel-sized toothpaste and rinse samples. While many stores may have bargains, Kroger has adult toothbrushes available for $1 each, and kids’ toothbrushes are sold two to a pack for $.89.

Anti-Violence Cottage Meetings

Beginning in October, the Social Justice Committee will host two congregational cottage meetings to discuss UUMAN adoption of an anti-gun violence platform. As demonstrated by this week’s tragedy in Washington and ongoing everyday human losses resulting from gun violence, this societal problem is not abating. We encourage UUMAN members to thoughtfully consider this platform and our role in building a society committed to justice and compassion.

Our first meeting will be held after the worship service on Sunday, October 20 and food will be provided. The meeting purpose is to present the platform and gather congregational feedback. Candid discussion is encouraged. A November 3 meeting is planned to discuss how the platform, if adopted, may shape UUMAN actions and attitudes. These discussions will culminate in a congregational vote in November.

The SJC welcomes your feedback at socialjustice@uuman.org

Sharing the Plate: 50-50 Sundays

The October recipient is Georgians for Gun Safety (GGS). Info about GGS can be found on their website at http://gunsafetygeorgia.org. The 50/50 Sunday is October 20.

The congregation collected $238.25 for the September recipient: North Fulton Community Charities.
Did You Know...

...How our Unitarian Universalist Service Committee came to be?
(“Did You Know...”is a new... occasional... series about UU Denominational Affairs.)

It was before World War II began, when the American Unitarian Association (AUA) became concerned about treatment of the Jews in Germany and passed resolutions as early as 1933 stating we "greatly deplore the persecution of the Jews in Germany as a violation of equity, tolerance, and humanity". At the time, The AUA had strong ties with the Unitarians of Czechoslovakia. American Unitarians were thus dismayed to learn that the Czech government agreed to annex Sudetenland to Germany in 1938, especially as they felt utterly betrayed by the Czech first lady, Charlotte Masaryk, a Unitarian from New York.

Unitarian minister Waitstill Sharp from Wellesley Massachusetts, and his wife, Martha, a social worker, embarked together on a journey to Czechoslovakia to begin a rescue mission of activists, Jews and refugees from Sudetenland. This was the beginning of many such missions by the Sharps and others. In 1940 the USC was chartered as a committee of the AUA, and in 1941 the flaming chalice was adopted as its logo, designed by Jewish refugee Hans Deutsch. This was the first use of the flaming chalice as a symbol of our faith!

Today the UUSC is a humanitarian organization that is separate from but affiliated with the UUA, promoting human rights and social justice. Currently the 501 (c)3 organization supports economic justice by promoting workers' rights, advances environmental justice with the human right to water campaign, defends civil liberties, and preserves the rights of those affected by humanitarian crises.

There are many ways for individuals and congregations to support the efforts of the UUSC from large to small:

Perhaps you and your family have contributed to Guest at Your Table boxes that our MCY distributes each fall and we as a congregation support during the winter holidays.

There are also service learning opportunities offered through the College of Social Justice to Haiti, New Orleans, Guatemala and along the US/Mexico border.

You and your family might want to participate in the Choose Compassionate Consumption campaign or advocate in other ways for economic justice.

The Environmental Justice Campaign supports the Human Right to Water as defined by the United Nations through its GOT WATER campaign and recognizes the relationship between climate change and the growing shortage of clean water in parts of the globe.

Perhaps you would appreciate the beautiful UUSC holiday cards that support the many campaigns of the UUSC.

There are many sides to the UUSC and many ways you can support its efforts.

Learn more about the organization here: http://www.uusc.org/

If you find any of these efforts compelling, would like to learn more, or would like to help UUMAN get more involved, please contact me.

UUWOMENSPRIT
Mountain Retreat

Join fabulous, wonderful women at the Mountain Retreat Center in the Smoky Mountains of Highlands, NC Oct. 16-20. In its 26th year, the activities at UUWomenspirit will include workshops in keeping with the theme "Thresholds: Gateways to Consciousness." This theme will be explored with offerings like learning life purpose using astrology, looking at rites of passage, enjoying body awareness through yoga, appreciating nature on The Mountain, and more.

Learn more and register at uuwomenspirit.org.

Meet Our Members
The Membership Committee is pleased to introduce some of our newest UUMAN members.

Bonnie Manaskie

Bonnie Manaskie is mother to Seph Roydes, age 7, a student at Barnwell Elementary School in Johns Creek. She teaches mathematics and science to English Learners (non-native speakers) at Roswell High School. Bonnie studied Biology as an undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania and recently earned a degree in Mathematics Education from Kennesaw State University.

As a US Navy "brat," she originally hails from just about everywhere that's on a coast, and she has lived in the Atlanta metro area for the better part of the past nine years. Bonnie enjoys singing in the UUMAN Chalice Choir and practicing yoga, and loves to spend time outside hiking and otherwise interacting with nature. Her vision of an ideal world is represented in Star Trek: The Next Generation. She was raised Conservative Jewish and maintains certain Jewish traditions at home.

Sam Tibbs

Born in Charlotte, NC, my childhood was divided between there and a small town outside of Chattanooga, TN. After high school, I spent 6 years in the US Navy Nuclear Power Program, then I worked as a Production Supervisor with Guardian Industries prior to attending the University of TN for my Ph.D. in Finance. While in Knoxville, TN, I met, and later married (2003), Monique, the most amazing woman I have ever known. We have four wonderful children, Thomas (9), Lucas (7), Helen (6), and Jack (3). Currently, I work at the American University of Sharjah outside of Dubai, UAE. I greatly appreciate the warm welcome UUMAN has provided me and my family. We look forward to becoming more involved in the UUMAN community.

Amy Scovill

I was born in Michigan and moved to Roswell when I was 10 years old. I've been a Yankee transplant in Georgia ever since and now live in Woodstock with my partner Scarlet and our 10 year-old son Nathan. I was confirmed in a Lutheran church as a teenager but have stayed away from organized religion since then. I have a B.A. in Communications from Georgia State University and I'm an independent Instructional Design consultant. I enjoy traveling and spending time with my furry "kids" (two Maltipoos and one playful kitten). I've been attending UUMAN since March of this year and have felt very welcome here.

Like so many these days, I have been afforded the wonderful opportunity to experience life, the Great Mystery from the heinous to the sublime; the magical to the mundane; the most-simple well into the realms of chaos; the ephemeral to the most-dense, and IT continues! Thus, I am the owner of a very rich life. I would call myself a worshipful mystic discovering and treasuring the divinity within my humanity. Come join me!

I have lived in California, Washington, Oregon, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Alabama and Georgia. The only two states I have NOT YET visited are Alaska and Delaware and they are not on the current 'bucket list.' Having traveled the USA extensively, I am keen to continue travels in more foreign climes. I used to fantasize living a few months in France, a few months in Italy, maybe a longer period in England where I have a beloved sister. However, life is mostly so beautiful and powerful wherever I am that exotic travel no longer holds the most allure. Not that I might not do these things!! just that I no longer feel so ‘pulled or driven’ to travel. Contentment and a crucial amount of fulfillment are key ingredients to this change. Oops! I would love to travel to Africa to meet the White Lions.

I have been a UU off and on since 1956 in Sacramento, CA when Theodore Abel was minister. I joined congregations in Sacramento, Denver and now greater Atlanta. My human families of origin are mainly the greater Siouan nations where I share ancestry with Sitting Bull, Crazy Horse, Black Elk, and the people of France. I was given a Sacred Pipe, Chanupa on my 40th birthday, so I participate with indigenous spiritual practices. Sufi, Hindu, Buddhist, and Christian traditions have all been part of my journey. I have also practiced meditation in many forms since 1973 and am a Complete Self Attunement Meditation practitioner and teacher. UU values, philosophies, and practices 'fit' the most with me. I am very proud and happy to be newly affiliated with UUMAN.

SUNDAY DISCUSSION GROUP

WALDEN

by Henry David Thoreau

The Sunday Discussion group is a group of members and friends of UUMAN who meet regularly to discuss topics of interest related to our faith. We find inspiration in books, UUA-approved curricula, and current sources of news and information. We meet regularly, on Sunday mornings, in the living room of Discovery Hall. Our meetings last about an hour, from 9:15 until 10:15 am. Our group is open to all visitors.

This fall, we’ve selected Walden, written by well-known Unitarian, Henry David Thoreau, on his experience of living off the land for two years. His book was first published in 1854, as an experiment for living simply, the importance of self-reliance and the illusion of progress.

“Walden is the collective musings of a free spirit, deeply knowledgeable of the classics, Eastern religion, native Indian lore and nature itself, sketched out against a background of great physical beauty and stillness.”

It made the 50 Self-Help Classics: 50 Inspirational Books To Transform Your Life by Tom Butler-Bowdon (London & Boston: Nicholas Brealey), along with Marcus Aurelius, Joseph Campbell, Ayn Rand, Dale Carnegie and others.

Please join as we embark on another exciting trip into deeper understanding of what it means to be a Unitarian Universalist in the 21st Century.

Gently Challenging Yoga Class

Gently Challenging Yoga Class

UUMAN has a new class; Gently Challenging Yoga. Bruce Watson (seen in the photo) is a certified personal trainer and wellness coach, who has been teaching yoga, among other things, for many years. A member of the Friday night bridge group, Bruce has volunteered to teach his seven-week yoga class here, at no charge. Everyone is welcome to join in, Fridays at 5:00 p.m. It’s a class appropriate for all levels, including beginners, who would like to improve their balance, strength, flexibility, and endurance with yoga. Bring a mat if you have one (or Bruce has a few extra to lend). Wear comfortable clothing, and either flexible shoes or bare feet. While Bruce is donating his instruction free of charge, a $5 donation to UUMAN is requested from the students.
We want to commemorate the happy occasions in the lives of our UUMAN members and other friends of UUMAN. We are looking for Naming Ceremonies, Graduations, Marriages, Anniversaries, Retirements, and Birthdays.

Please submit the information about your special day, in the month prior to the event, to Claire Sullivan at cbsullivan@bellsouth.net.

Atlanta Pride Festival—The largest LGBT festival in the Southwest—returns to Piedmont Park each October following National Coming Out Day which takes place on Oct. 11. Celebrate diversity and community during this two-day Atlanta gay, lesbian, and transgender extravaganza that includes live entertainment, cultural exhibits, famed Pride parade, and the Pride Marketplace featuring over 200 vendor booths, as well as tons of restaurant and bar promotions.

Other events taking place during Pride Festival Weekend are the Pride Car and Motorcycle Show and Dyke March. And wrap up the weekend with the Atlanta Pride Parade, a lavish march through the heart of the city, filled with gorgeous costumes, music, and more! There are plenty of opportunities to volunteer and participate in this extravaganza! We need people to staff the Unitarian Universalist booth; work the Bucket Brigade and, of course, walk in the parade. There are sign-up sheets on the Social Justice table in Fellowship Hall. Any questions, contact Gary Uitvlugt at garyuat@an.com or (678)731-0600 or (678)751-8877. Come and be a part of this great event!

What is Nia? It is a fun movement class that lifts your spirits. It is a workout that “sneaks up on you” because you don’t realize you are getting exercise. It is a way to develop flexibility, agility, mobility and strength plus feel good in your body and about your body. It is simple movement to great music for Every Body whatever your experience or fitness level. Nia combines dance arts (e.g. jazz, folk), healing arts (e.g. yoga, Alexander technique) and martial arts (e.g. Tai Chi, Tae Kwon Do) into an easy to follow, joyous experience. It is a movement class that taps into the body-mind-spirit connection to provide whatever you want to take from it. Come try it!

Last month we enjoyed Dance the Chakras, a special Nia session exploring the 7 energy centers in the body, the chakras. With great music to inspire us, we explored movement related to each of the chakras starting with tribal rhythms and a dance to the earth (rootchakra).

Come join us October 28 for the next Nia class.

Contact Marjorie Pomper for more information at marjpomper@gmail.com.

No NIA from September 30—October 21.
The October Common Grounds Coffee House will be on Saturday October 26th at 7:30 pm.

Our October performers will include the daughter of our members Dot and John Daly. Their daughter Celia McDermott will be playing in a trio called “One Lane Bridge” with fellow performers Mike Cerra and Cameron Morrison Kane.

One Lane Bridge
Individually known as Mike Cerra, Cameron Morrison Kane, and Celia McDermott, together they are “One Lane Bridge”, an acoustic trio bringing renditions of songs bridging years of love and life, including the Beatles, Bonnie Raitt, Joni Mitchell, Bob Dylan, Indigo Girls, James Taylor, David Wilcox, John Prine, and many others.

Our second performers of the evening will be brothers David and Jonathan Fallis.

Rye
Rye released their first studio album, Cumberland Island, in May of 2013, it is evident how much they have grown since an inauspicious beginning four years ago. Rye is brothers David & Jonathan Fallis. “We have always been committed to writing the most honest songs we can,” says David Fallis, the older of the two. “In a lot of ways, we have had to grow into our songs.” Cumberland Island captures that growth with subtlety and candid storytelling.

This year the annual UU picnic took place at Pinckneyville Park in Gwinnett County.

It was also a reunion of old friends and acquaintances. Jeff was an interim minister at UUMAN many years ago, and after several years of ministry at a UU congregation in Fredericksburg, VA, is now back in the area as minister at Emerson.
UUMAN Bridge Group

The Friday evening bridge group was initiated by Jim and Ginny Rogers. Terry Parkerson, a professional bridge instructor and member of UUMAN, volunteers to teach, mentor and lead the players. The evening starts with some snacks and socializing, then Terry gives a free lesson to the group, and finally, the games begin. Usually at least a dozen people, both UUMANs and other people from the community, at all levels of experience, come each Friday at 6 PM. The players donate $5 to UUMAN. You are welcome too! Please email Ginny at jdr1943@hotmail.com

Family Potluck Night

An evening of fellowship, feasting, and fun!

HomeStretch Garden

This was the second year that UUMAN worked in a community garden at a Homestretch duplex near the Roswell library. Homestretch is a nonprofit that provides shelter and education to help homeless people get back on their feet.

Last year, we built raised beds and filled them with bagged topsoil. This year, we had a soil analysis done on that topsoil to find that we needed to amend the soil with more nitrogen. To add as much nitrogen as the soil report indicated was difficult to do organically. We added bloodmeal and organic fertilizer, and learned that we should stick to crops unlike corn that do not require a lot of nitrogen. Also growing certain crops like beans adds nitrogen to the soil. A couple of Homestretch families helped in the garden where we grew yard long beans, tomatoes, peppers, okra and some herbs.

Thanks to Sophie & Val Davis and Laurie Wheeler for helping this summer.

The UUMAN Gardening Group meets from 9:00 a.m. to around 11:00 a.m. two days of every month from mid-March to mid-November at UUMAN. Please check UUMAN Announcements for the exact dates. We weed, prune, rake, mulch, water, plant, and transplant.

If you are not available during our scheduled work days, then we can still use your help. Some people come by during the evening or on the weekend or other weekdays to do some work in the gardens. If you contact Claire Sullivan at cbsullivan@bellsouth.net to let her know what days and times you’re available, she may be able to set you up with another gardener so that you can work together. If you’d rather work by yourself, that’s fine, too.

Anything you can do to help out would be very much appreciated!
